

BRYAN IS GREETED BY LARGE CROWD

Secretary of State Delivers Address on Opening Day at Fredericksburg Fair.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Fredericksburg, Va., September 30.—Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan delivered an address before an enthusiastic crowd at the Fredericksburg Fair to-day, being greeted with an ovation following a complimentary introduction.

Mr. Bryan arrived here this afternoon on the 1:17 o'clock train. He was met at the station by A. P. Rowe, president of the fair, and Alexander Berger, of "Hayfield," and they went at once to the residence of W. J. Ford, on Hanover Street, where an informal luncheon was tendered in honor of Mr. Bryan. The distinguished visitor, accompanied by Mayor J. P. Rowe and a number of prominent citizens called to pay their respects to the distinguished visitor. Immediately after lunch, the party went to the fair grounds, where a large crowd was waiting to hear Mr. Bryan speak. A. P. Rowe, president of the fair association, called the assembly to order, and presented Alexander Berger, who introduced the Secretary of State in a brief but appropriate address. He said that Mr. Bryan had confessed to him that it was a great pleasure to him to meet and mingle with his countrymen.

Mr. Bryan delivered an address of great interest. His subject was "The Significance of the Times," and for more than an hour he discussed the problems of reform, religious questions, morals and progress in the science of government. Bryan was repeatedly applauded, and many people came forward to greet him and shake his hand. His time was exceedingly limited, as after the address he immediately left in an automobile for Maryton Schoolhouse, near "Hayfield," the home of Mr. Berger, a distance of twelve miles from Fredericksburg, where he was again introduced to the people gathered there by Mr. Berger, and delivered an address. Following this address Mr. Bryan was rushed back to Fredericksburg, and took the 7:01 o'clock train for Washington.

The crowd at Fredericksburg Fair to-day broke the record for attendance on the first day. In addition to W. J. Bryan's speech, United States Cavalry gave exhibition drills, and there was a big tournament and successful balloon ascensions. The races resulted as follows:

Mule race, half-mile—A. T. Rollins' Pete won; John Hudson's Polk Miller, second.
Scrub race, half-mile—J. P. Simpson's Gold won; T. Cooper's Lady, second; T. S. Shepherd's Pop, third.
Half-mile dash, open to all; purse $100—G. G. Breton's Royal Oynx won; J. T. Harris's Racing Bell, second.
Mile dash, open to all; purse $100—M. L. Coleman's Voltaire won; M. L. Hutcherson's Little England, second.

SENIORS TO WEAR MUSTACHES.

Mark of Distinction for Upper Classmen at Trinity College.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Durham, N. C., September 30.—At a recent meeting of the senior class at Trinity College the motion that all seniors should wear mustaches was proposed and adopted. As a result a number of students are sporting mustaches in embryo. As a further mark of distinction, the seniors this year will carry silver-headed canes.

Following a custom of several years' standing, next Wednesday, October 1, will be observed as Benefactor's Day at Trinity. This is the first holiday of the term, and is taken up with interesting exercises. On previous years the day has been observed as Benefactor's Day some of the most prominent men of the country have been brought to Trinity to deliver the address of the day. This year the college has been successful in getting another well-known speaker in the person of Dr. William A. Webb, newly-elected president of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va. Benefactor's Day was established several years ago as an annual holiday by action of the board of trustees to aid in the cultivation of a spirit of benevolence and as a time to give recognition to all those who have made contributions to the institution during the year.

TRIAL OF GREAVER NOW IN PROGRESS

Majority of Witnesses for Commonwealth Heard Without Proving Crime Committed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Staunton, Va., September 30.—The trial of Lee Greaver, who is charged, with his three brothers, with the murder of his brother-in-law, Edward Miller, on June 21, 1911, began in the Corporation Court here to-day, and a jury was secured and the majority of the witnesses for the Commonwealth examined. So far the Commonwealth has not proved that a crime was committed.

Miller was found mortally wounded lying beside the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway tracks with his skull fractured and right arm broken. No inquest was held, the coroner deferring to the opinion of the police department that Miller had been struck by a train. Within the past few months a case has been worked up against the Greavers, the nearest evidence to connecting Lee Greaver with the tragedy being that of J. A. Crawford, a colored man of good standing, who was walking along the track in company with Dr. O. W. Marshall, another reputable colored man, when they came on the body. They started to town to report to the police, and when a short distance away they heard a much scratch in the dark, and looking back, Crawford swore, he saw Lee Greaver stooping over the body examining it. Greaver is attempting to prove an alibi. The case probably will be concluded to-morrow.

WILL MEET AT LYNCHBURG.

Program for Annual Session of Classical Association of Virginia.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Charlottesville, Va., September 30.—Dr. Thomas Fitzhugh, professor of Latin at the University of Virginia, and president of the Classical Association of Virginia, has announced the program for the next meeting of the association, which will be held in Lynchburg during Thanksgiving week, at the time of the meeting of the State Teachers' Association. This will be the third annual session of the Classical Association.

The program includes papers by Miss Meta Glass, of Randolph-Macon Woman's College; Dr. Robert H. Webb, professor of Greek at the University of Virginia, on "A Plea for Unity" (of Latin with Greek in the teacher's equipment); Miss Helen M. McWhorter, of the Newport News High School, on "An Index to the Latin Situation in Our Schools"; and by Professor Edwin W. Bowen, of Randolph-Macon College, on "How May the High School Teacher Deepen His Pupils' Interest in Latin?"

A round-table discussion will follow the stated program, at which the association will discuss and formulate an appeal in behalf of Greek to be sent to those who have charge of the high school curricula in the South. This appeal will emphasize a recent statement made by Professor Fitzhugh

HEAD PERFECTLY BALD WITH ECZEMA

Side of Face Almost Solid Sore. First Rash, Then Water Pimples. Itched and Burned Badly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Soon Cured.

R. F. D. No. 8, Maryville, Tenn.—"My baby, when three months old, took eczema on his face and head. His head and one side of his face were almost in a solid sore. The eczema was first of kind of a rash and then it broke out in water pimples and they would burst and looked very badly. It would itch and burn so badly that he could not rest at all and his hair just all fell out and he was bald. He was perfectly bald. He could not sleep at night and was very cross."

"I tried _____, and other remedies without any relief at all; he only got worse all the time until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. He had great relief the first application. The first night my baby rested fine and was cross no more. I would bathe him with the Cuticura Soap and then apply the Cuticura Ointment twice a day, morning and night. He was soon cured and his hair began to grow back and now he has just beautiful fine hair and has no sign of eczema." (Signed) Mrs. H. D. Clabough, Jan. 28, 1913.

For treating poor complexion, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have been the world's favorites for more than a generation. A single set is often sufficient. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard, Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston.

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

when he said: "Greek is our noblest heritage from antiquity, and no cultured Indo-European democracy can afford to omit it as a possible study in the high school. It matters not how few may elect to pursue it."

In addition to Professor Fitzhugh as president, the officers of the association are: Professor Walter A. Montgomery, of Richmond College, Vice-president; and Miss Nora B. Fraser, of Sweet Briar College, secretary-treasurer. The executive committee consists of the officers and Professor S. G. Anspach, of the Lynchburg High School, and Professor Joseph Anderson, of the Petersburg High School.

John Jamerson Gets Fifteen Years' Sentence for Killing Wife.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., September 30.—John Jamerson, who shot and killed his wife in West Lynchburg on August 17, was taken to the State Penitentiary, at Richmond, to-day in charge of Guard Johnson. Jamerson was tried at the recent term of the Circuit Court of Campbell County, and was given fifteen years for his crime.

SECRETARY OF WAR AT FORT MONROE

Inspects Every Building on Reservation and Watches Target Practice.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Old Point, Va., September 30.—Secretary of War Garrison spent most of to-day inspecting Fort Monroe and watching gunners smash targets anchored five miles up the Chesapeake Bay.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Garrison, Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, and General Hattus M. Weaver, chief of artillery. They arrived at Old Point at 9 o'clock this morning, and were met by Colonel Ira Haynes, commandant of Fort Monroe, and his staff. When the party arrived at the fort they were greeted by a salute from the big guns.

Secretary Garrison inspected every building on the reservation, and was particularly interested in the artillery school. He was greatly interested in a special drill by artillerymen given in his honor, and was enthusiastic in his praise of the men when the gunners in the big mortar battery opened fire on targets in Chesapeake Bay.

The party returned to Washington to-night.

PLUNGES TO DEATH ON MOUNTAIN SIDE

Seventeen-Year-Old Daniel Sours Instantly Killed While Coon Hunting.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Luray, Va., September 30.—Daniel Sours, aged about seventeen years, son of Samuel Sours, a star-route mail-carrier between Luray and Skyland, met a terrible death while coon hunting last night. Young Sours, accompanied by two colored boys, had reached one of the wildest portions of the Blue Ridge, and was leading the party. He was carrying a lantern, and was about a distance of seventy-five or 100 feet. When picked up his body was mangled beyond recognition, many bones being broken and his brains knocked out.

By the latest news margin Sours' companion missed instant death also, his sudden disappearance through space, carrying his lighted lantern, bringing them to a sudden halt. After returning to young Sours' home and giving the alarm, the negro boys could not locate the bodies of the two boys where the tragedy occurred, and the body could not be found until daylight.

ENTERPRISES FOR WILLIAMSBURG.

Business Association Called to Consider Location.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Williamsburg, Va., September 30.—President J. B. C. Spencer, of the Williamsburg Business Association, has called a special meeting of that body for Friday night to consider the location here of an electric light and gas plant and an overall factory. There is a proposition for a $30,000 electric light and ice plant and an overall factory employing 100 to 200 people. The concerns will be financed in most part by outside capital, but it is said considerable money has been promised for the electric light plant by local men. The Business Association is expected to assist these enterprises in getting locations here.

The post-office at Ewell having been abolished, farmers and business men in that section receive their mail only three times a week by a rural route out of Lightfoot post-office, much to their dissatisfaction. Efforts have been made since the post-office at Ewell went out of business to have a regular daily rural route established, but without success, the department saying that there were not enough patrons on the route to justify the daily service. In the meantime, the interest of the farmers and business men are suffering by the poor mail facilities, and they have decided to take the matter up with Congressman Montague if they cannot get better service through the department.

A commission of lunacy, composed of Mayor E. W. Warburton and Drs. Hankins and King, sat in the case of Simon Whitby, an aged negro, this afternoon and adjudged him insane. He will be sent to Petersburg to-morrow. Whitby at one time was a well-to-do man, but lost his mind from worry over his help being forced to pay a second debt for a member of his race who held a public office.

Mrs. L. L. Walls is very ill in her home in Colonial Extension, this city. Miss Letty Warburton and Miss Julia Armistead, delegates, and Miss Rosa Emory, alternate, left this morning for Richmond to attend the convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

REGISTERED POUCH ROBBED OF $11,000

Edwin M. Silberger, Assistant Postmaster at Pocahontas, Is Wanted for Theft.

Roanoke, Va., September 30.—Two registered packages, one of $10,000 and another containing $1,000, are missing from the registered pouch of the post-office at Pocahontas. Coinciding with the disappearance of the two packages, a local detective bureau has been asked by post-office inspectors at Bluefield, W. Va., to locate Edwin M. Silberger, assistant postmaster at Pocahontas, for whose arrest Federal warrants have been issued, charging Silberger with the robbery of the two packages.

It is known Silberger came east as far as Roanoke on an early morning train. The conductor described the wanted man as having boarded his train at Bluestone Junction, five miles from Pocahontas, and to have paid him a cash fare to Roanoke. The train conductor also says Silberger appeared as "laboring under great excitement," and of having "apparently been running when he got on his train."

The two registered packages were locked in the pouch and left in Silberger's charge, to be sent East to depositories, the $10,000 package by a Pocahontas bank to Lynchburg, and Northern correspondents. The smaller package contained Postmaster M. L. Mustard's remittances.

Silberger is described as being a Hungarian, having been assistant postmaster at Pocahontas for three years, with dark hair and eyes, slight build and a fashionable dresser. He is married and has two children.
